We at Clemson College are delighted to have each of you with us for today's game.

It is always a pleasure to show our fine institution to friends and 'friendly enemies' alike. We hope both the football played here today in our magnificent stadium and your experiences on our campus will be memorable, and that you will come back to visit us often.

We hope, too, you will share with us our pride in the progress which abounds here. We invite you to share our obligations to the young men and women who have their faith in us for their 'tomorrows,' and our commitment as the greatest single influence upon every segment of economic, social and political life in South Carolina.

About The Coach . . .

Frank Howard's 22nd season as head coach at Clemson and his 31st on the staff holds much promise, even though there are the usual problems such as lack of depth at some positions, inexperience at others, lack of speed in the backfield and probably the toughest schedule ever to face a Clemson team.

Most of the "Top 20" selections failed to mention the Tigers this year, but all gave a note of caution that "Frank Howard's Tigers cannot be overlooked and could offer a few surprises."

Howard has been connected with eight bowl teams: one as a player at Alabama, one as assistant coach at Clemson and six as head coach of the Tigers. Two of his teams were undefeated, five have won conference championships and six of the last 13 squads have been in post season spectaculars. The Tigers, despite being underdogs in all seven bowl appearances, stand 4-3 in bowl competition.

In his entire coaching career Howard has won 121, lost 74 and tied 10. In eight years of ACC competition Howard has a 28-12-1 league mark and a leading overall record of 52-27-3.

Today's Game

The Clemson-Maryland game today could be the most interesting of any played in Memorial Stadium in several seasons.

Not only are both the Tigers and Terps included by many as pre-season Atlantic Coast Conference favorites, but rival coaches Frank Howard and Tom Nugent are the two most outspoken head men in the loop.

A running verbal battle between the two has been going on which adds more color to the already star-studded rivalry started in 1952.

Nugent and Howard have met only twice with the Terp coach emerging a three-point winner two years ago and a two-point victor last season.

Fans will not long forget the outstanding offensive performance offered in these last two games by All-American candidate Gary Collins. The talented Terp is performing again today at left end. Rival coaches and players have found some of his feats almost unbelievable. His knack for grabbing passes from a mob of defensive players has earned him the label of the "crowded end" from Nugent.

The Tigers and Terps have both been powers in the ACC since its formation in 1953. Clemson has won the football title outright three times while Maryland has shared two titles with Duke.

In the overall standings Maryland has a wee edge over Clemson in conference games with the Terps having a 29-12-2 (.698) to Clemson's 28-12-1 (.695), but the Tigers have the edge in all games played 52-27-1 (.656) to 49-31-2 (.610).

Of the 25 post-season bowl games played by ACC teams, Clemson has been involved in seven and Maryland five.

It was not until the fifth game (1957) between these two schools that Clemson managed its first win. But who can forget the 1955 struggle when 30,000 jammed the 20,000-capacity Memorial Stadium to see Clemson take a 12-0 lead only to wilt to Maryland's depth and a 25-12 loss?

There have been great moments in this short nine-game series. A bowl team emerged in five of those nine contests. Another one may be on the field today.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

looks to BANNER YEAR

By TED SMITS

General Sports Editor, The Associated Press

AFTER making due allowance for the fact that footballs can take strange bounces, and that coaches like other mortals can change their minds, this 1961 college football season may well become known as the year of the wide open offense.

If this materializes the reason will not be any great change in the rules — only alteration is an adjustment permitting freer use of the “wild card” or single substitution — but because several different trends have matured and hardened. First of all, the defense has gone about as far as it can go. It has become fluid, imaginative and capable of adjusting quickly to a variety of attacks. If this continues unchecked football could become static — a couple of running plays or a pass and then a punt and then the pattern repeated again. Games would be decided by accidents such as fumbles or a single long run or pass.

FOOTBALL IS FUN

Secondly there is a growing realization on the part of coaches that football should be fun—fun to play, fun to watch. The fun side of football is the offense.

Take these two trends in combination, both pointing in the same direction, and the conclusion is inescapable. This should be the year of the wide open game, of unusual and experimental formations, spreads and flankers, and of draw plays and screen plays. The experts think the control game—hang on to the ball at all costs and take no chances—is finished.

Of course there are limitations. A football team can't play beyond the capacities of its personnel. If a squad lacks a good passer, obviously the passing game can't be emphasized. And you can't punch consistently through the middle of the line without a good fullback. So there will always be exceptions to any trend, dictated by the kind of talent a coach has at his command.

“WILD CARD” TO HELP OFFENSE

The liberalization of the “wild card” substitution rule will help along the emphasis on offense even though it will not be a conspicuous part of the game's activities. Hitherto a “wild card” player could not enter the game along with a group of his team-mates without being charged with a recorded appearance. Now if he runs on the field a little ahead of the others he keeps his “wild card” status. Coaches thus can concentrate on substituting outstanding offensive men frequently without fear of penalty.

There is still another trend at work that won't be fully felt this year but is sure to loom large in the years ahead. The plain fact is that colleges are due to get a lot more and a lot better football material soon. The big birth boom of World War II has swelled high schools to the bursting point. Soon the babies of the early and mid-1940's will be playing college football. There's a lot more of them than was the case in the late 1930's, now furnishing the bulk of college teams. It's an axiom of sports that strength and talent come from numbers. The talent that is now becoming available, and soon will reach flood tide, should raise the level of all squads from the biggest universities down to the smallest colleges. And given sufficient talent, teams can come up with plays not possible with limited personnel.

So college football should be mighty interesting in 1961, and even more so in the years ahead. It is a pleasant prospect.

"I don't care how you did it out in Texas."

"I'm afraid he's been on the bench too long."

On days when the elements aren't too bad, Clemson's football team enters Memorial Stadium down the east bank on the world's largest college banner. The unique banner, presented to Clemson by Wunda Weve Carpet Co., of Greenville, weighs 527 pounds, is 104 feet long and 13 feet wide. The rug is exhibited at all Clemson home games and it followed the Tigers to the 1959 Sugar Bowl game.

The Wild Card

by Charles W. Tucker, Jr.

rule modification takes the "joker" out of the "wild card."

Last season, the Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association introduced the "Wild Card" substitution, which proved to be a big step in the liberalization of the substitution rule. Unfortunately, it also proved to be unfair at times.

In order that we may understand what has taken place, it may be well to review the substitution rule as it was written last year: Any player who starts a period, or one who enters during a period, may re-enter once during the same period. In other words, the same player can be in and out of the game twice during each period, or eight times during the game; the only restriction being that once he enters the game he cannot be withdrawn until at least one play has been run, and once he has been withdrawn from the game, he cannot return until at least one play has intervened.

In addition to the above, one substitute was permitted to enter the game at any time between downs regardless of previous entries, and his entry did not stop the game clock or interrupt the 25-second count. This lone substitute was known as the "Wild Card" and could be used freely and at will by his coach. However, here is where the rub came in. If other substitutes were subsequently sent in on the same play with the Wild Card, then he was charged with an entry; and if the Wild Card had already had two official charged entries in that period, he was in trouble. It would be bad enough to penalize him for a violation of the substitution rule which carries a 5-yard penalty, but this infraction comes under the heading of "Illegal Return," the penalty for which is 15 yards. And this hurts.

You will no doubt wonder how a coach could get himself into such a situation with full knowledge of the rules. The answer is very simple. The coach has a great deal to think of on the sideline during any closely contested game, and even the charged time outs against his various players are sometimes very difficult to record accurately. Now, to give you a concrete example, let's assume you are the coach and your team, Team A, is on the offense. You want to send in your best passer but he has already used his two allotted entries, so you avail yourself of the Wild Card rule and send him in as a single substitute. Before the next play has been run, Team B requests a time out which the referee grants. During the time out, the Team B coach sends in a number of substitutes to bolster his pass defense. Immediately, the coach of Team A decides to change his strategy, so he sends in a couple of fast backs. As soon as the official checks in these two additional substitutes from Team A, he realizes that the Wild Card substitute must also be recorded as no play has intervened since he came in. When he looks at his card for recording substitutions, he sees that the Wild Card has been charged with two previous entries; so he has no other alternative than to signal a foul and inflict a 15-yard penalty on this team for illegal return.

The Rules Committee has now corrected this situation by rewriting the rule to the effect that the first substitute of either team may re-enter the game at any time between downs, without being charged, regardless of previous entries.

The spirit that prompted the liberalization of the Wild Card substitution was to permit a coach to take out a player who had been temporarily shaken up, check his physical condition and return him if desirable, without being charged with one of his official time outs. This was a great step toward preventing injuries, and it also gave more players a chance to get into the game. Coaches have found that this gives them an excellent opportunity to relay information to their team between every play, and the Rules Committee has taken a dim view of this procedure and has expressed its disapproval rather concisely as follows: "The Rules Committee deprecates the use of substitutes to convey information to players on the field continuously on successive downs throughout the game."

1961 Clemson Varsity Managers

1961-62 Basketball . . .

The hottest group of sophomores to join the varsity ranks in many moons steps forward this year for Coach Press Maravich's sixth year as Clemson coach. Maravich believes this will be his best club so far, although an auto wreck back in May might rob him of his leading scorer of the past two seasons.

Choppy Patterson, who has made all-conference honors his first two years, suffered a dislocated pelvic bone in May and was in traction for eight weeks and stayed on crutches some six weeks more. His playing status was undetermined as of Sept. 1st, and if the senior guard is forced to stay out a year, the burden will fall even more on these sophomores.

Another 60-61 starter, Tommy Mahaffey, returns and his rebounding and scoring is expected to play big factors in the overall won-loss record.

Jim Brennan, Nick Milasnovich, Richard Hall, Donnie Mahaffey, Manning Privette, Woody Morgan and Gary Burnisky should give the Tigers some added bench which has been lacking of late. Also, there is good height among these sophomores. Brennan led the 17-2 frosh in scoring last season with a 26.3 mark, a new Clemson record for a freshman.

Maravich has lined up a tough 25-game schedule for his Tigers that includes home and home games with each of the seven other ACC schools as well as Florida State and Furman. Single games are scheduled with VMI, Citadel, Kent State, Marshall, Davidson and two games in the Poinsettia Classic in Greenville.

Clemson Football Network

The Clemson Football Network enters its eighth year of broadcasting Tiger gridiron contests this fall. The network has proved to be highly successful and is operated wholly by the Clemson Athletic Assn.

The network reached its zenith of coverage in 1960 by averaging 46.9 stations per game with outlets in Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina. This average represents a jump of more than 20 stations per game in the last five years. The fewest outlets broadcasting any one game last fall was 41 with the highest being 55 twice.

Jimmie Coggins and Ed Osborne will again handle the broadcasting on the network this fall. Coggins as the play-by-play commentator while Osborne gives interesting pre-game and post-game comments as well as handling halftime interviews with top personalities from the press box.

Coggins, who is the dean of South Carolina sports broadcasters, is owner of Station WKDK in Newberry and is co-owner with Osborne with Station WBCU in Union. They are co-owners of Station WAGS in Bishopville.

Coggins broke into radio 27 years ago with WSPA in Spartanburg. He also worked at WAIM in Anderson before going to Newberry in 1949. Prior to joining the network in 1954 he broadcast the Clemson games during the seasons of 1936-1937-38-47-48-49. In 1950-51-52 he did the "Game of the Week" on Station WIS, Columbia.

Osborne served as director of both the Clemson News bureau and the sports publicity office from 1947 through the spring of 1950. A Clemson graduate, he left his dual post and joined Station WMSC in Columbia as sales representative and sports director. Since early 1953, he has been manager of WBCU.

Osborne is immediate past president of the South Carolina Broadcasters Assn., and is now a member of the board while Coggins was singled out in 1960 by being voted the "Sports Announcer of the Year" in South Carolina.

Greatest CLEAN-UP TEAM in its field . . . that's TEXIZE!

Try all these famous Texize household products and find out why they've won out in millions of homes. All will perform to your highest expectations.

The Texize secret? Modern chemistry plus bold imagination to make fine products better and better and better.

What Texize has done for the home, Texize has done for industry in general and the textile industry in particular. Indeed, Texize derives its name from its first products — textile sizings . . . a fact well known to Clemsonites who know the help given Clemson by Texize in behalf of the textile industry.

That contribution to Clemson and to textiles will continue to grow in the future as in the past.
